Re: Helpful Data Reporting Tips

We are pleased to announce our expanded Helpful Data Reporting Tips as an enhancement to the many resources available to NISS member companies. These expanded documents include both common coding tips and reasonability checks that companies can perform on their data before submitting to NISS.

We have currently developed our Helpful Data Reporting Tips into three categories: General Reasonability Checks (which apply to all data Calls), Automobile Call, and Homeowners Call. These documents will be ever-changing and expanding as we continue to add new topics as they arise. We also have plans to add tips for more Calls in the future.

Member companies can download a copy of the tips from the member's side of the NISS web site – www.niss-stat.org – on the “Helpful Reporting Tips” page under the “Edit Tools” menu item or on the Auto Volume I, Auto Volume II, or Homeowners Statistical Plan pages.

Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions or need any additional information.

Very truly yours,
