Re: NISS Edit Tool Enhancement – Fast Track Utility

In a continued effort to provide you with edit tools to assist in your statistical reporting activities, we are happy to announce the Fast Track Utility is now available on our website at www.niss-stat.org. This enhancement was developed with extensive input from the NISS Technical Advisory Committee.

Fast Track is a quarterly report in which NISS collects data from the top Homeowners and Automobile writers in each state. We then combine the data with other Statistical Agents and send it to State Insurance Departments. We also sell these combined reports for a nominal fee to companies that are interested in comparing their experience against the industry.

We have developed a Fast Track Utility for two purposes. The first is to help companies that report Fast Track data to NISS review and verify their data prior to submission to NISS. These companies can find a database with their Fast Track historic data loaded in their Company Correspondence page.

The second purpose of this Utility is for companies that purchase the Fast Track Reports from NISS. We have placed a blank database on the NISS website for a company's individual use, where they can import their company data into the database and compare it to industry data. The blank utility and documentation can be downloaded from the Fast Track Utility page from the Edit Tools menu item on the NISS website.

If you are interested in purchasing Fast Track reports or would like more information on this helpful database, please contact us at questions@niss-stat.org.

NISS is pleased with this edit tool enhancement and hope you will be, too, as initial feedback has been very positive! Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions or thoughts about this new feature.

Very truly yours,
