Re: NISS Website Enhancement – View Compilations

In a continued effort to provide you with easy access to pertinent information regarding your statistical reporting activities, we are happy to announce another new feature now available on our website at www.niss-stat.org. This enhancement was developed with extensive input from the NISS Technical Advisory Committee.

After all data is collected from our member companies, NISS compiles an aggregate final report for each line of business and sends them to the state insurance departments. We also provide these Compilations to our member companies for the lines and states they report to NISS. Individuals with a user account to access member company information on the NISS website will now be able to view the latest Compilation reports, as well as those generated for the 2 previous years, directly from the website whenever needed.

You can access this View Compilations page from the Member Data menu item on the NISS website. Links to the Compilations for the lines and states your company writes will be shown, with a separate tab for each line of business.

Within each line of business tab, users will be able to open, view, print and/or save each state's report and the countrywide report (where applicable) as a PDF by clicking on the link for the desired report. If you would like one report that merges each report for all of your states and applicable countrywide reports, please select the "Combined PDF" link and that report will be generated.

NISS will send a notification email to alert member companies when a new Compilation has been added to the website. This notification will be sent to individuals designated as Primary and Primary CC contacts.

NISS is pleased with this website enhancement and hope you will be, too, as initial feedback has been very positive! Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions or thoughts about this new feature.

Very truly yours,
